UPDATED!

FEDERAL PROGRAM MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATE'S AND MASTER'S CERTIFICATES

In partnership with The George Washington University (GW), Strategy Execution offers two federal program management certificate paths. The first allows you to obtain an Associate's Certificate in Federal Program Management. This certificate exhibits your knowledge and skills within the federal program management discipline. The second is a Master's Certificate in Federal Program Management from Strategy Execution and GW.

Obtaining the master's certificate allows you to add GWCFPG credentials after your name, and highlights your expertise in the field of federal program management. The GWCFPG (The George Washington University Certified Federal Program Manager) certification, established by Strategy Execution in association with the GW School of Business, is a recognized credential in federal program management. A GWCFPG practitioner has acquired core federal program management knowledge through the successful completion of at least seven Strategy Execution courses that lead to a Master's Certificate in Federal Program Management.

If your agency is seeking a way to strategically align projects to goals, efficiently implement organizational change, or even eliminate resource waste, Strategy Execution's Federal Program Management Development Path will guide your organization in the right direction.

By teaching your teams to apply proven practices in program management, this comprehensive curriculum helps ensure that your managers have a strategic view of projects and that they are maximizing overall program benefits. In addition to enhancing skills and refining competencies, the path also lays the groundwork and foundation for individuals seeking PgMP® certification.

A certificate from Strategy Execution and GW acknowledges and rewards individual achievement while adding authority to your organization's strategic learning initiatives.

Completing all 4 core courses required for the Master's Certificate in Federal Program Management will also fully satisfy the training requirements for the FAC-P/PM Level 3 certification. For more details on FAC-P/PM training please go to www.strategyex.com/facppm.
